Tolkusha grinds her portion of leicha: one paw guides the pestle around the mortar's wall, while the other holds the mortar against her apron. The side veil of her liangmao, brought from elsewhere, leaves her face open. This is the personal story of a craftswoman from Quannan; the hat is an object acquired elsewhere, not a claim about a local uniform.

Leicha: a ground tea mixture with sesame, peanuts and grains; a clay mortar and wooden pestle.
